Located two blocks from Bryant Park, Refinery Hotel is a luxury hotel in Midtown Manhattan's Garment District. While our home in the 1913 Colony Arcade building gives us a long history, our stylish loft rooms, acclaimed Parker & Quinn restaurant, and trendsetting Refinery Rooftop bar create a fashionable refuge for locals and cultured visitors in present-day New York.

Drawing inspiration from our early life as a hat factory, each of the 197 rooms at Refinery Hotel feature industrial details such as 12-foot ceilings, large windows, and distressed hardwood floors. With mosaic tile floors and copper accents, our marble bathrooms are luxurious, down to the exclusive Noir bath products. Flat-screen TVs, fully-stocked minibars, and complimentary free WiFi access are also included in every room.

Refinery Hotel continues the Colony Arcade's long tradition as a Midtown meeting place. Home to a bar and restaurant since 1914, Refinery Hotel serves ribeye and soft-shell crabs at our Parker & Quinn restaurant, while our intimate lobby bar, Winnie's, hosts a schedule of live jazz music. Our celebrated, year-round Refinery Rooftop bar is known for its innovative cocktails created by In Good Company mixologists, as well as its unparalleled Empire State Building views. And from wine hours to pop-up programming in our Hatbox flex space, there is always something to see and do at the hotel.

Centrally located in Midtown Manhattan, Refinery Hotel is within walking distance of legendary shopping on Fifth Avenue. Our concierge is available to suggest shopping, dining and entertainment recommendations suited to specific needs and tastes, while our carefully crafted destination guide highlights our favorite things to see and do nearby—whether it's taking in a new exhibit at one of the city's finest museums uptown or exploring the downtown cocktail scene.
